Homework 4

Haocheng Wang

Based on the model performance shown above, the pet model with 500 instances is already quite close to the performance of regular classifier. Thus, I think, it is quite possible for us to reach the desired performance by using 1000 instances or more.